JUAN GATTI

FULLSTACK DEVELOPER

PROFESIONAL PROFILE

I am a very versatile and self-taught developer; My main quality is the ease with which I adapt to different situations, I am also constantly looking to improve my skills and increase my knowledge.

EXPERIENCE

FullStack Developer

Henry (academic) || Agust 2021- September 2021

With my teammates we developed a non-traditional E-commerce that provided a personalized service for organizing meal recipes for the week. The users can use his personal email for login or use Google Auth. Also we used MercadoPago app for subs. I was mainly involved in the development of the front end, database and debugging of the Application.

FullStack Developer

Henry (academic) || September 2021 - October 2021

I develop a SPA Application that extracts the information from an external API, storing it in the database implemented with PostgreSQL and with the deployment made in Heroku. The application allows you to search for countries with their information, reordering, filtering them. You can also create your own tourist activities and link it to the country or countries you want.
